108 Pedal4Pink Bike

Arlene Wobler lived her life to the fullest. A self-taught artist, a passionate cyclist and a beloved wife and mother, she thrived on new experiences and never backed down from a challenge. When she was diagnosed with breast cancer, she never complained and never gave up. Arlene passed away on August 14, 2011. In her memory, her family has created the Pedal4Pink organization. And in keeping with her passions, the group will help to raise funds in the fight against breast cancer. That is where the bike comes in to play. We have been told that this fun, pink bike is the first of many more to come - bikes that will be hand painted and sold to raise money to fight breast cancer. The retro style fenders were hand painted by local artist & Arlene's daughter, Julie Houck. Tool around the neighborhood, the Monon, or anywhere and be the talk of the town!

701 "Pieces of Glass" an Original Acrylic Painting

This original acrylic painting named "Pieces of Glass" was created by Shauna Shelley especially for the Pink Tie Ball. Shauna uses her artistic talent to create fabulous pieces of art that she sells through the Blush Project. Each piece has a dedicated meaning or representation associated with breast cancer. Creating awareness is the primary purpose of her projects. All proceeds raised from each piece will be donated directly to the Central Indiana Affiliate of Susan G. Komen for the Cure! This painting directly represents what is so wonderful about The Pink Tie Ball, people coming together to support the cause. It is unlike her other pieces; this one does NOT focus on the survivor or their emotions. Rather, it is dedicated to their family, friends, and loved ones who are affected--their SUPPORT.

Donor: Shauna Shelley, The Blush Project

702 "Green Lady" Framed Acrylic Print on Canvas

710 Metal Rose Sculpture

These fabulous roses can be used inside your home or on your back patio! Artist Joanie Drizin of Girly Steel uses nature as her inspiration to create contemporary yet whimsical and functional garden art that accentuates the landscape without overpower it. Using mostly sheet metal, rebar, and recycled objects, Joanie lets the art weather to a natural patina. You may have seen Joanie's work in downtown Indianapolis during the Super Bowl. She created football sculptures that were inspired by the Vince Lombardi Trophy for use in planters in downtown Indianapolis as a part of the city's beautification project in preparation for the Super Bowl.

Donor: Joanie Drizin, Girly Steel

711 Downtown Indy Photos on Canvas

These 3 lovely pieces of art were created using high resolutions photos of the downtown canal and the Indianapolis skyline during "Indy Super Cure Pink Week" when the canal was dyed pink. The photographer used special filters to give the digital photographs a watercolor tapestry appearance and they were printed on canvas and framed. The prints are limited editions, 1 of 46 and signed by the artist, C. Anthony Elliott.

Donor: C. Anthony Elliott
